Underwriters Threaten to Raise Insurance Rates.

THE FIREMEN CANNOT WORK.

Overhead Wires Cause Increase in Losses and the Men Who Pay Demand Reliel.

Unless the Municipal Assembly adopts an ordinance before July 1 compelling the elec-tric light, telegraph and telephone companies to put their wires under ground, fire insurance rates will probably be raised 10 per cent by the St. Louis Board of Fire

If such an ordinance is adopted a reduction of 10 per cent will be made in July.

This is the alternative held out by the

Since the meeting of the Board of Underthat the overhead wire question alone stood the proposition to reduce the rates. As was predicted in Tuesday's Post-Dispatch, the matter of reducing the present tariff came up before the board, but at once encountered opposition.

A resolution was introduced, the substance of which was that an advance of 10 per cent the word.

stance of which was that an advance of 10 per cent shall be made over the present rate unless effective legislation to force the wires under ground is accomplished by the Municipal Assembly before 'July 1. Those present expressed themselves in favor of a reduction of 10 per cent in the event of such legislation.

The resolution was referred to the Public Improvements Committee, with instructions to report upon it at the next meeting of the board. The next meeting will be held on the second Tuesday in April, and the committee will meet to discuss the resolution a few days before.

As a majority, if not all, of the members of the committee are favorable to the resolution, there is little doubt that the committee will submit a report recommending its adoption.

This will mean that unless steps are taken

This will mean that unless steps are taken

This will mean that unless steps are taken at once to force the wires underground, a return will be made to the old 20 per cent advance in the tariff, which was reduced 10 per cent last June through the efforts of the Post-Dispatch. The 20 per cent advance had been made some time before, on the score that the fire loss in St. Louis had been so heavy as to make the advance necessary, if the companies represented in St. Louis wanted to do business here without financial loss.

advance was maintained for some The advance was maintained for some time after conditions had improved, but finally the board receded to the extent of 10 per cent, as a result of the agitation of the matter by the Post-Dispatch. Two costly fires during the present year, in which overhead wires played a disastrous part, are assigned by members of the board as the cause for the refusal to recede from the other 10 per cent'of the advance.

For some time the Board of Underwriters has been agitating the metter of burying was pending, the underwriters supported it with all their energies. Owing to the efforts of Councilman Heckel, as some of them believe, the bill was defeated.

The underwriters now state that they will resort to heroic measures. They argue that a movement that will touch the pockets of the public will result in members of the Municipal Assembly being compelled by popular clamor to afford the needed legislation. They believe that an advance of 10 per cent in fire insurance rates will produce this popular clamor, especially when the threat is coupled with a promise to reduce the rates in the event of the fegislation being provided.

Members of the board maintain that, in ers of the board maintain that, in Members of the board maintain that, in spite of the assertions of non-board and expoard agents, they are once more in a position to dictate fire insurance rates in St. Louis. They insist that with the exception of Hirschberg, the only opposition now is from the Lloyds, and that has weakened to such an extent that it is not to be considered. They are in earnest about the overhead wires and declare that the Municipal Assembly has trified with the matter long enough. The advance, they say, may even e advance, they say, may even

Nothing was said in the resolution about overhead trolley wires. These being in the middle of the street are not so great a source of danger in cases of fire. The refusal of the Lindell Company to shut off its power during the Siegel-Hillman fire will cause, it is stated, the issuance of an ultimatum by the board in regard to the overhead trolley wires. The board will probably insist that a stringent ordinance be passed compelling the rallway companies to shut off power when ordered to do so.

Howard A. Blossom talked freely on the subject when he learned that the proceedings of the meeting had become public property. He stated that there was little doubt that the resolution would be adopted. "I was not at the meeting," said Mr. Blossom, "but learned of the resolution today. The action outlined in the resolution will probably be taken. The overhead wire nuisance has reached such a stage that action is absolutely necessary for self protection. No matter what skill and hard work may be brought into play by Chief Swingley in fighting a fire, the overhead wires render him almost powerless. With wires almost covering the fronts of buildings, as they do on many of our principal streets, the firemen are almost shut off. It is necessary to bring the full force of streams to bear, and this is now practically impossible because the wires prevent the raising of ladders and cut the streams up so that they are spray before they reach the flames. The water tower cannot be raised next to the curb on account of the wires and has to be operated from a distance. Besides, the men at the pipe lines are in danger of death every time they encounter these net-works, as water is an excellent conductor of electricity. St. Louis is away behind the times in this matter.

tricity. St. Louis is away behind the times in this matter.

1 "If a disastrous fire should occur between now and next July, in which an extensive loss could be traced to the interference of the wires, the proposed increase will probably be not 10, but 29 per cent, unless an ordinance burying the wires is passed meanwhile. The telephone and telegraph companies, I am positive, are anxious to see under ground, as the managers of the Bell Telephone Co. and the Postal Telegraph Co. have repeatedly assured me that the saving on damaged poles and broken wires and the improved service will more than compensate them for the cost of the change. We favored the Board of Public Improvements ordinance and cannot understand the logic of its defeat.

said about the trolley wires, because until recently it was believed that the underground trolley system was not a success. Recently permission has been refused in New York for the erection of overhead trolley wires, and the success of the underground system has been demonstrated."

Another member of the Board related that a $400,000 loss during the first two months of the year had aroused the Board to a realigation of the gravity of the situation, and that the Underwriters were determined to remedy the matter if possible.

"In Boston they have just succeeded in putting the wires under ground," said this gentleman, "and it has also been accomplished in Hantford, Conn. In those cities and in Chicago and New York not a wire is seen overhead. St. Louis is away behind the times."

Half a dozen detectives from headquarters are aiding them in their search. If Joseph is still in the metropolis, before another sun goes down the probabilities are that he will be put behind iron bars. This will be absolutely necessary, for it would not fare well with him if any one of his dozen victims was to get him within arm's reach.

his dozen victims was to get him within arm's reach.
Schmidt is a German of perhaps 30 years, short in stature, and not afflicted with good looks. He is of a nervous disposition, defective in education, but endowed with a full share of self-assurance. He is thoroughly familiar with woman's queer ways and the best method of capturing her. He did not rely on flattery, either, in effecting his ends, but turned stern and dictatorial when occasion required it.

The procuring of a warrant for Schmidt on the charge of having swindled his sweetheart of $500 caused half a dozen other precincts to be heard from, and that number of too confiding young women are looking for him and their several financial alls, which he had secured on various pretenses. He would engage to a girl with money, get her wealth and disappear. His gains run from $50 to $500, and he has been living high. His victims heard from number fifteen so far.

The police consider the evidence against him very strong, and the circumstances are not bettered by the numerous conflicting stories he tells.

The other suspects, arrested Wednesday morning, are Mike Dempsey, James Carroll, Pat Ford, alias Frank Beard, Thomas Hayes and Thomas Cain. The latter was originally held as a witness, but circumstances tended to connect him with the crime, and he was arrested.

The drag-net system was invoked by Capt. O'Malley Wednesday night, and the following men were taken into custody from the lodging-houses near the river: Jacob Schmidt, John O'Donnell, James Redpath, Michael Morrissey, Otto Anchor, August Peterson, William Niemann, John Stone, Lawrence Nolan, Robert Schwitz, Morris Toomey, William Broderick, Frank Wickmann, Thomas Kane, Dan Nolan, Charles Ungermann and Tony Welsmann. They are held as witnesses for the Coroner.

The inquest was set for 10 o'clock Thurday morning, but was continued until the same hour Friday morning to give the police more time to act.

Chief Desmond and Capt. O'Malley had Carl Maier under fire for about two hours Wednesday night, and more than once it looked as though he was on the verge of weakening and revealing the whole story of how Reynolds came to his death.

Maier was very pale and nervous during the whole time he was on the rack. At one moment he would deny a plain assertion he had made but a moment before, and his conduct was such as to lead the officers to believe that he was at least concerned in the whole affair.

It is reasonably certain that Reynolds was attacked while in the water closet, lassoed with a small plece of sea grass rope, and

A Theory That He Made the Rev. Trenholm Sign Two Notes.

"Oh, yes," said the Colonel cheerily, I did promise to talk over the situation to-day with the Post-Dispatch, but you see I'm just getting ready to leave town again for my old stamplag ground in the Southwest, and I have no time to talk. I believe I have a few friends down that way yet. At least, the boys all treat me nicely when I go to see them, and I'm sure there are no people in any part of the world of whom I am fonder. I'll be gone all the week and expect to visit a number of points in the Fifteenth District before I return."

When the Colonel was asked if he expected to stop at Nevada, the home of Gov. Stone, he winked his other eye and looked stern and solemn. A clerk in his office, however, whispered to the reporter when the mighty man's back was turned that Col. Phelps would spend the greater part of a day in Nevada.

It is no longer a secret that Col. Phelps' main, and in fact sole purpose in taking such an active part in the present campaign is to defeat Gov. Stone for delegate to Chicago, in the event that the Governor should yield to the pressure of his friends, and become a candidate for a place on the delegation. He would not discuss this with the reporter yesterday, but persons who enjoy his confidence assert that but for his opposition to Gov. Stone perhaps Phelps would have taken no part in the campaign. Whom he favors in place of the Governor is not known, though that he is not working directly for Chief Factionist, Francis is claimed by his friends.

His policy seems to be "anybody to beat Stone," and after the Governor Is disposed of he will bring his man forward. It may be that the great railroad lobbyist is favorably disposed toward C. C. Marfitt, whom he is known to credit with a stronger personal following in the State than that enjoyed by Francis, but it is understood that he prefers to give all the aid possible to Marfitt in the Twelfth District fight as a surer means of pulling him through rather than to undertake the herculean task of forcing that the services of the solotton of th Edgerton, charged with forgery, is on trial in the Criminal Court here, and the case has Edgerton is the son of wealthy parents in New York, and they have employed Senator A. W. Brewster and other attorneys to defend him. The defense may be on the ground that the Rev. The movements of Gen. Gomez have aroused much curiosity among the military authorities during the past fortnight. Nothing has been done by any rebel group to indicate the presence of that leader, but it is the practice for commanders of Spanish columns to report encounters with the rebel chieftain. There is no means of knowing in most cases who is at the head of the antagonistic column, but there is more distinction in meeting Gomes than any other rebel commander.

ROME, March 26.—The Senate, by a vote of 109 to 6, has adopted the credit asked for by the Government for contemplated operations in Africa consequent upon the defeat of the Italian army at Adowa. The amount of the credit is 140,000,000, lire. The amount of the credit is 140,000,000, lire. The appearers during the debate pointed out that the attitude of Great Britain showed that the Anglo-Italian alliance was an accomplished fact, and rested upon a more solid basis than mere treaties and protocols.

A profound impression has been caused here by Baron Blanc's confirmation of the fact. Its conclusion proves great ability on ex-Premier Crispi's part.

may, however, approach this desirable consummation by process of gradual development. We may endeavor to establish some common interests and common obligations, to deal with which it is natural that some sort of representative authority should grow up.

"The greatest obligation is the imperial defense. The greatest interest is the imperial trade. The former must be reached through the latter, as was the case in the creation of the German empire. At first the Reichstag was convened to deal with the commercial interests of the German States. Gradually it embraced national and political objects; and became the bond of unity and the basis of the empire.

"It is a dream, if you like, but it is a dream no man need be ashamed of—to create an empire greater and more potent than any history has ever known. Nothing can be done, however, in any direction until Great Britain and her colonies have decided upon imperial unity, founded on the common weal."

fore Archbishop Kenrick died, and they yet stand ready to fight adverse claimants is deemed by Archbishop Kain a sufficient reason for him to avoid a controversy by referring all inquiries to his lawyers.

As exclusively told in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch the archlepiscopal residence at 850 Lindell boulevard is claimed by Mr. Cunningham to be the property of the Kenrick heirs by operation of law, as it was desded to the deceased prelate in fee simple and was a personal sift to him.

Mr. Cunningham said that the case had not been placed directly in the hands of a lawyer, but that the circumstances under which Archbishop Kenrick made a deciaration of trust and thereby nullified his fee simple title will be investigated.

STUCK WIRES IN HIM.

William Henderson, who Has a History, Roughly Handled.

William Henderson, aged 69 years, started to St. Louis from Sedalle a few days ago. He stopped at Kirkwood and started to welk to St. Louis.

Atter he left Kirkwood he was halled we there was a natural consequence to the said it was a natural consequence to he said it was a natural consequence to sead the said it was a natural consequence to sead the said it was a natural consequence to sead the said it was a natural consequence to suad the sa not accept any parole statement as to its contents.

Before the will was filed and made public, Mr. Eustace consulted Attorney A. J. P. Garesche as to his right to a share in his deceased uncle's estate. The absence of a will would throw the disposal of the estate into court and Mr. Eustace presumed that he had a colorable claim to property held by the Archbishop in his individual capacity. Attorney Garesche was giving the problem the accumulated benefit of fifty years' experience in probate matters when the will was put on record. He stopped thinking on the subject and told Mr. Eustace at once that his hopes of participation in the division of the estate were blasted.

The funny feature of this unexpected development was that Messrs. Garesche and Eustace were the witnesses to the very codicil which put a quietus on the expectations of the dead Archbishop's nephew. The well-founded presumption that the testament had been lost had been underningd.

The finding of the will which meant so much to many persons was somewhat remarkable, as it is told by those who have the account from Archbishop Kain. Archbishop Kain made an attempt to locate it as soon as he perceived the difficulties which would follow his predecessor's death. He learned the combination to the safe in which Archbishop Kenrick kept valuable papers. The safe was ransacked by Archbishop Kain and Archbishop Ryan, while was the red of the diaged seduction. After failure to obtain satisfaction through the medium of a church trial, Miss Hoeser appealed to the courts, and at the preliminary examination the minister was bound in the safe, unlocked a strong box concealed in the safe. This box apparently contained in the safe that the paternity of him, it being expressly understood, how the him is the puppers of ilitigation and that he does not confess the truth of the church of a trust estate.

About a month before Archbishop Kenrick's death, Archbishop Kain decided to make another search of the strong box. He examined each paper and at last picked up a sheet, void of indorsement or title, not honored with an envelope and aparently a blank piece of writing material. Archbishop Kain opened it and to his surprise saw that it was the long lost will.

He turned it over to his attorneys with instructions to hold it until the time came for filing it in the Probate Court.

In his searches for the will, Archbishop Kain saw a great deal of Archbishop Kenrick's official records and papers, and he mide discoveries which he intends to make known in a delatiled statement.

He found that Archbishop Kenrick kept a precise record of the use made of the immense sums left with him by will for church purposes. The total/bequests received out of many estates amounted to $300,000. Of this sum Archbishop Kenrick made $100,000 by shrewd investments in St. Louis real estate.

The total amount, $900,000, was advanced by Archbishop Kenrick to the parishes and religious institutions. What little was paid back was advanced to other churches until the whole sum was spent.

Archbishop Kain will make public these figures in detail, because wealthy persons whom he has approached for donations to the new Cathedral have studiously asked what became of the immense fortunes bequeathed to Archbishop Kenrick.

William Henderson, Who Has a His-

The narrative based on Mr. Cunningham's statement has called out a story scarcely less interesting and which concerns Attorney A. J. P. Garesche, Mr. John Eustace and the finding of the late Archbishop's will. It was well known that the document filled for probate by Archbishop Kain had long been looked on as lost. Mr. Eustace, the Archbishop's nephew, thought it was lost, and Attorney Garesche, who witnessed the codicil giving everything to Archbishop Kain, was of the opinion that the testament could not be found. If it had not been recovered the presumption of law would be that the testactory it, and the Probate Court would not accept any parole statement as to its contents.

business, 218 North Third street, Monday and has not been seen aince.
Charles Crutsinger, dealer in printing rollers, has written to Dr. Barry of Hot Springs, Ark., an old friend of Ryan's to be on the watch for him.
Years ago when Ryan was working in Hot Springs he wandered to St. Louis under the spell of mental aberration. When he recovered and learned where he was he went back to Hot Springs.
His friends think, perhaps, he reversed the order of his wanderings and started for Hot Springs.
While Ryan was a Confederate soldier his skull was cracked and a silver plate was put over the cavity. His mental weaknesses at intervals of years are ascribed to this mishap.

BPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 26.—Word was received here last evening of a desperate fight at Wison's general store in the visings of Berry. James and Charles Horning, two prominent young farmers, and James Housick were shot in the fight. Only a Small Sub-Centract Is Involved, Alt a meeting last night of the Democratic City Central Committee the primaries to elect delegates to the Sedalia Convention which it has threatened to do.

The Business Men's League has a contract which it has threatened to do.

The Business Men's League has a contract with the Republican National Central Committee to have the hall ready for the Republican National Convention on June 16, and if it can prove that the Auditorium will not be ready by that date legal authorities search that by virtue of its previous contract the League can interfere and place the contract for construction in other hands.

The Building Trades Council will hold a meeting some time this week, when the letting of the Mesker Bros. contract will be taken.

A little cloud has made its appearance on the horizon of the Republican National Convention Hall. The cloud bids fair to become as significant in its effects as the similar one that obstructed the completion of the convention hall in Minneapolis four years ago. R. P. McClure, who has the contract for the building, has sublet the iron work to Mesker Bros., who, organized labor assert, employ non-union men. This may lead to a strike of the union men employed on the other subcontracts.

McClure's contract from the Building Committee of the Business Men's League reads that the convention hall must be completed and ready for decorations by June 6.

The serious nature of the threatened trouble can be understood when it is recalled that organized labor instituted a strike on the Minneapolis building in 1802 and party leaders afterward asserted that that was one of the causes leading to the defeat of the candidates chosen in that hall. Labor leaders denounced the Republican preferred "scab" labor to union men. No one doubted that the labor vote had considerable to do with the Democratic victories of 1892.

When McClure was awarded the contract he began work at once, grading the hilly lot at Twelfth street and Clark avenue. In the meantime he received bids from sub-contractors. Among them was one from Mesker Bros. for the Iron work. There is scarcely $1,000 worth of such work to be used in the building, and as the Mesker bid was the lowest they were given the sub-contract.

EVE UP TO DATE.

His wife's social ambition—so ran the story over the wires from Washington yesterday—is to be again used as an additional four years' occupancy of the White House. The President, it is said, longs to return to private life where he can pursue his piscatorial pleasures in summer and his duck-shooting in winter without the interruptions and hindrances interposed by cares of state.

Mrs. Cleveland, however, loves her position as "the first lady in the land" and as a means to retain it has persuaded as a means to retain it has persuaded Grover to enter the Presidential race for the fourth time. When he ran the second time, after having declared in his letter of acceptance that he would not ask for-another term, Mrs. Cleveland was accused of making him change his mind. It would seem the amiable mistress of the White House is being subjected to the same unfair treatment as was Mother ing her husband into temptation.

A LESSON IN GOLD.

The financial plank of the New York Republican convention declares that the standard of value in the currency sys-tem has long been the gold dollar and that private and national prosperity depend on its maintenance.

pend on its maintenance.

It is for the calm judgment of the business men of the country to determine whether cause and effect have been as thus declared. Accepting as true the statement that the currency of the country has been on a gold standard for many years, does the record of business during those years shows prosperity?

The acute stage of depression reached in this country in '91 was laid at the door of silver. The Sherman buillion purchase act was repealed on the promise at business prosperity would follow. Ites, lockouts, organized armies of unloyed men marching toward the natical capital, a fall in prices of all ducts, and a general paralysis among wage-earners and capitalists came instead. Also the organized raids on the treasury, the repeated depletion of the gold reserve and the sadding upon the country of hundreds of millions of dollars of debt, incurred by the safe of interest-bearing bonds.

All this has occurred despite the fact may not strike St. Louis at all. Weather nele gold standard. The work of finan-

Last Washington's birthday Mayor Walbridge addressed a large audlence in one of the churches of St. Louis, his theme being pure politics as exemplified in the public life of Washington and Lincoln. Not long ago in a triangular forensic duel before the A. P. A. convention at Kansas City, in which himself, young Mr. Davis and Maj. Warner were the principals, he is credited with saying

It would seem that the Taxpayers' League intends to insist that the Mayor of St. Louis shall practice "restitution" first and patriotism afterwards.

TO READ OFF "MAC."

The lead gained by McKinley has startled the entire flock of bosses and "favorite sons" into a combine against him. A story comes from Washington to the effect that Quay, Platt, Joe Manley, Warmouth, Wright, Cuney and other anti-McKinley bosses in the East and South are moving heaven and earth to stem the tide that is sweeping the Ohio Napoleon, so-called, toward the Republican nomination.

The plan of campaign is to induce al the other candidates to pool their respective influence and strength in favor the other candidates to pool their respective influence and strength in favor of the most available among them. Reed will be put to the fore, it is alleged, and if he falls to bring all the anti-McKinley elements under his gonfalon, then the standard will be handed to Allison, on whom will devolve the pleasant task of bringing about a Waterloo for the High Priest of Protection at St. Louis in the Congressman Joy a member of the Republican National Congressional Committee, there may be formidable schemes for carrying the Missouri districts.

It is said by enthusiastic friends that the prairies are on fire for McKinley.

But there came a sudden change of conditions. The Democratic City Central Committee, which was thought to be in control of Mayor Noonan, was lost to that element. Under the leadership of C. C. Martit the other side obtained a majority of the com-mittee.—To-day's Republic.

In this deal Mr. C. C. Maffitt stood for In this deal Mr. C. C. Maintt stood for D. R. Francis. The "sudden change of conditions" was brought about by the outright purchase of enough members of the City Committee to make a majority. Messrs, Francis and Maintt have never obtained anything in either City or State politics except by the use of money. They are relying on money, and on the mustering of the employes of the big corporations, to thwart the will of the Democrats of Missouri at the Sedaila Convention.

At last night's meeting of the Demogratic City Central Committee Mr. Thad Harris offered a resolution, reconsidering the action of the committee at its last session placing the primaries under the control of the Central Committee, and proposing as a substitute that the primaries be held under the regular election law. It is to be regretted that this resolution was not adopted. For reasons already given, the Post-Dispatch is of the opinion that the committee made a serious mistake in deciding to hold the primaries under the old law.

The St. Louis Republic will fall in its attempt to set the silver forces in Missouri to quarreling among themselves. It seeks to accomplish its work by trying to make the people believe Gov. Stone has a knife up his sleeve for Mesars. Vest and Bland. The truth is Vest, Bland. Stone and the rest of the free coinage leaders in the State are working in entire harmony trying to prevent the Republic, since its self-out to Wall Street, from turning the State over to the Republicans as part of the goldbur plan to get possession of the United State's Senate.

Lingie Murray Says Her Physician Betrayed Her.

KICKED OUT OF HIS OFFICE.

The Doctor Declares That He Is Innocent and the Victim of an Irresponsible Person.

Lizzie Murray, a pretty little black-haired girl, 17 years old, called at the Four Courts with Attorney Charles B. Smythe in quest of a warrant against Dr. Herman L. Nietert, who has an office at 320 Cedar Miss Murray, who looks little more than a child, claims that the physician betrayed her under promise of marriage last June in his office.

"I still love Herman," she said, and a tear trickid down her cheek. "I would not take this step if he had only treated me half decently. But Wednesday morning he kicked me about like a dog. If he had only uttered one kind word to me I should have condoned everything.

"Dr. Nietert was our family physician. He treated my married sister, who died nearly two and one-half years ago, and I became acquainted with him. We lived at Tenth and North Market street. About two years ago I was sick and Dr. Nietert treated me. I was not 15 years old and I used to go from my house to his office.

"He is tail and handsome and he treated me so kindly that I grew to love him. He swore I should be his wife and like a fool I believed him. After last June I noticed a coolness in his demeanor. He frequently ordered me from his office and said he cared for me no more.

Wednesday morning I went to his office.

"You here again," said Herman. Get out now and keep away. Remember I want nothing more to do with you. I said, Don't break my heart. Marry me as you promised." Get out, I say, he shouled, and then he

'Get out, I say,' he shouted, and then he Get out, I say, he shouted, and then he seized me by the shoulders, turned me around and kicked me out.

"I returned to the office door and begged him to listen to me. Instead he called his negro servant and ordered him to throw water on me, which the negro did. Then I left and went to some friends who sent me to Mr. Smythe."

to Mr. Smythe."

The girl's father recently moved from Tenth and North Market to 6806 Old Manchester road, where he conducts a dairy. He knows notiding of his daughter's ruin, she having, she says, concealed her shame until her lover's conduct drove her to desperation.

Attorney Smythe said: "Miss Murray is a mere child. She was sent to me by a well-to-do citizen whose name I will not mention, who guaranteed my fee and demanded that I press the matter and undo a great injustice, and I shall, if it is in my power. "This is a most aggravated case. It would be bad enough to ruin a child of 16, but to-kick her and then order a negro servant to throw water on her is too barbarous for civilized communities. I shall ask for a warrant to-morrow, and if I don't get it I will present the matter to the Grand-jury."

Dr. Nietert is tall and splendidly formed.

Dr. Nietert is tall and splendidly formed, with a kindly, handsome face and a saucy mustache. He is a typical ladies' man. He is a Republican and earns $10 per cadaver by conducting autopsies on the city's unknown dead. He is about 27 years old.

When asked what he had to say to Lizzie Murray's accusation, he replied: "There is nothing in it. It does not contain a word of truth. I treated her at my office and at the Dispensary for four months. She applied at the Dispensary recently for treatment, but I refused to give her any attention, as I considered her crazy. She has not been in my office for months, although she was frequently chased from the neighborhood by the police and colored porter for raising a disturbance.

"I did not see her when she came near my office Wednesday morning as I was not up. The colored porter refused to let her in." Dr. Nietert is tall and splendidly formed,

The colored porter refused to let her in."

Charles Forses, the colored porter at Dr. Nietert's office, rolled his eyes in amazement when told the nature of the charge Lizzie Murray had made. He said she paid her first visit to the office last June, and was treated as a patient. She continued to call at frequent intervals, and at unseemly hours, but was not disturbed while she sat reading in the general office.

Forsee said that about four months ago she became Assgreeable and attracted the attention of the police, who ran her away whenever they saw her in the neighborhood. Forsee said that Dr. Nietert tried to get rid of her by complaining to her mother, who came to the office with Lizzie one day. Mrs. Murray, Forsee said, acted as if she did not understand a thing that was said, and seemed very queer.

The colored porter said he was cleaning the office steps when Lizzie called Wednessday morning. He threatened to pitch a pailful of water at her and she ran into the street and declared she would have him and the doctor arrested.

Adolph Mueller, Accused of Stealing, Attempts Self-Murder.

Adolph G. Mueller, a cooper, 45 years of age, made a desperate attempt to kill him self early Thursday morning at his residence, 1535 South Third street. After swallowing a quantity of "rough on rats," he shot himself in the right side of the head above the ear with a 32-calibe revolver. His wife was in an adjoining room and

His wife was in an adjoining room and went to his assistance after hearing the shot. Dr. W. A. Fries of 1544 South Broadway was called and extracted the bullet. Mueller was taken to the City Hospital.

The pistol wound is not considered dangerous, and the man may recover unless the poison shall prove fatal.

Mueller left a note in which he advised the police to look after certain persons whose names he mentions, and who are accused by him of being thieves.

"I have been persecuted in the cooper shops for the last four years," wrote Mueller, "and it looks as if there is suspicion on me for something that somebody else has done. I am not guilty,

"I have tried my best to support my family, but I cannot stand it any longer, so I will show you that I will sooner kill myselt than steal."

TWO CRACK ROAD RIDERS MATCHED.

Ross Miller of St. Louis and John Gridi of Wichita, Kan.

RACE 100 MILES APRIL 15.

The Contest Is for the Western Road Championship and Will Take Place at Wichita.

Ross Miller, the crack local road rider, and Ross Miller, the crack local road ruler, and John Gridl, of Wichita, Kan., have been matched for an unpaced road race, to take place at Wichita, April 15. The pair will meet at 100 miles, the course to be 50 miles out and 50 miles back to Wichita. The race will be for the Western road championship nd a suitable trophy will be presented to the winner.

Miller has gone into training for the race, and is doing most of his work in Forest Park. He was out last night, and while speeding at a 3-minute pace struck a freshly sprinkled spot in the road and went down in a heap. His wheel was badly bent and twisted, but Miller fortunately escaped with a severe shaking up. He was at work as usual this morning.

Miller resigned from the Century Club recently. His match with Gridi at Wichita should get him in good shape for the great Forest Park road race. All the crack road riders of America will be here to start in this event, and the local champions must be in good condition to hold their own against the outsiders.

The St. Louis Turfman Secures Lucky Dog for $500 at Frisco.

A big horse sale of considerable interest to St. Louis turfites took place in San Fran cisco the other night. Fifteen thoroughbreds from the estate of the late Simon G. Reed, the Oregon turfman, were sold for $9,645, an average of $643.

Ed Corrigan paid the best price of the sale, $1,700 for a 2-year-old by imp. Maxim, out of imp. Ira. Green B. Morris paid $900 for Thorn Blossom, a chestnut filly, 2, by imp. Martinhurst—imp. Sweet Eye, and $700 for Midlight, a bay or brown filly, 2, by imp. Midlothian—Electric Light. Lucky Dog, by Darebin—Lou Lanier, was purchased by Barney Schreiber of $1. Louis for $500, a very short price considering the reputation the horse enjoyed at one time.

The weeding-out sale of Schreiber's stable will take place at Frisco shis week. Among the horse catalogued are Sylvia, Globe, Hazel D., Clara B., Ida H., Minnie H., Doyle, Yemen, Zoolein, Jack Richelleu, Ingleside, Trix, Irma, Beatrice and America.

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely and gives most general satisfaction.

The Browns have got fairly started on their barn-storming tour of Texas. They are now in Fort Worth, where they play three games. From there they go to Austin, San Antonio, Houston, Denison and Sherman, arriving in St. Louist about April E.

Grey, the young outfielder on Tebeau's trial list, is showing up spiendidly in the preliminary practice. He is fielding in wonderful style and batting well. On any other team he would be sure of a place, but it is doubtful if he can crowd out Burkett, McAleer or Blake.

The continued ill health of Fred Ely, the great shortstop, is a source of great worry to Connie Mack and President Kerr. Ely seems to be developing the same trouble that made his playing inst year so unsatisfactory. He was not sick shough to be in bed, but never felt well for a week in succession during the summer. His absence will greatly weaken the team.

It is prettty generally acknowledged that through the peculiar financial management of the McKinley crowd they really have the convention, but the Reed Credentials Committee are playing a freeze out game, being afraid to organize, lest the McKinley men should be in control.

Cancer Of the Face.

Mrs. Laura E. Mims, of Dawson, Ga., says: "A small pimple of a strawberry color appeared on my cheek; it soon began to grow rapidly, notwithstanding all efforts to check it. My eye became terribly inflamed, and was so swollen that for quite a while I could not see. The doctors see. The doctors said I had Cancer of said I had Cancer of the most malignant type, and after exhausting their efforts without doing me any good, they gave mp the case as hopeless. When informed that my father had died from the same disease, they said-I must die, as hereditary Cancer was incurable.

"At this crisis, I was advised to try S.S.S., and in a short while the Cancer began to discharge and continued to do so for three months, then it began to heal. I continued the medicine a while longer until the Cancer disappeared entirely. This was several years ago and there has been no return of the disease."

reunited after years of separation.

Under favorable auspices the first marriage should have prospered, but Obenhaus fell into offssipation and estrangement followed. First came a separation, then, about five years ago, Mrs. Obenhaus sought and obtained a divorce in the Circuit Court.

After the divorce was granted Obenhaus forsook the community in which he had grown to manhood, and went South. After a hard struggle he overcame his drinking habit and reformed. He told her of his reformation and asked her to forgive and forget. She consented and last night's wedding was the result.

A. J. GOODWIN ARRESTED.

collected for the Continental Oil Co. of Cripple Creek, whose agent he was in September, 1893. He was arrested in St. Louis, where he was put under $1,200 bonds. He forfeited his bail, however, and went to England, returning only a few days ago.

There is, besides, a standing charge of bigamy against h'm. He married on August 7, 1890, Miss Mamie Gallagher, in this city. On November 21, 1893, he was married to Sadie O'Neill in Brooklyn. The second Mrs. Goodwin was with him when he went to Europe. He did not support her, however, and she returned.

The police have other records of Goodwin. They learned that in 1892, while he was a clerk in the employ of Perkins & Edwards in this city, he collected 400 for them and absconded with it. Then he went to Brooklyn, where he worked as a clerk for W. Spencer & Co., real estate agents. He stole $150 from them. He admits having taken the money from the Continental Oil Co., and says when he skipped his ball in St. Louis he did so with the intention of going to England, where his grandfather had died, leaving him some money. He intended to return and pay back the money he had taken. His share of the estate, he says, was $15,000. Goodwin is held to await extradition papers. England, returning only a few days ago.

Mrs. Bowman Denies Writing the Burgess Letter.

Mrs. Emma Bowman of 1764 Mississippi

Circumstantial evidence that at first seemed much against her was merely a sequence of distorted facts. She now admits, and so does her husband, that the greatest mistake made was not allowing herself to be interviewed at the start.
To a Post-Dispatch reporter she told unhesitatingly her full connection with Lizzle Burgess, and went boldly to face every one who had made insinuations against her.
They all "crawfished" and went back on their original statements.
"I had a slight acquaintance with Lillie Burgess over two years ago," explained Mrs.

Burgess over two years ago," explained Mrs. Bowman.

"I never wrote any of the letters attributed to me and published in the Post-Dispatch. Such statements are entirely false. I did send her one nove, which was received, and one which was brought back to me.

"If any other letters were received they never came from me.

Miss Burgess admits imagination played an important part in her grievances.

Mrs. Reed says io is her firm belief Mrs. Bowman is a sadly wronged young woman. The order for the Bowmans to move has been recalled.

THIRD TERM NOT WANTED.

Whenever There Is a Lonesome Call From County or District the Letter of Declination Will Appear.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 26.—If ere is one county in the United States that will declare for Grover Cleveland for a third term, his letter of declination will at once be made public.

This is the statement of persons near the President. They say that until some public declaration is made the President cannot say anything. He is placed in the attitude of anxiously waiting for a public expression from anywhere of a desire to have him again the standard bearer of the Democracy. If the Democratic organization of a Congressional District, or even of a county, would only declare for the President, say his friends, he would then have the opportunity of declaring his intentions.

Pending this, they say, the President, however embarrassing it may be, will have to maitain silence: This new feature of the situation is amusing in some respects. There are thousands of counties with Democratic organizations, and 356 Congressional Districts, but it would appear Congressional Districts, but it would appear that not in the entire list is there one which will voluntarily place itself upon the sacrificial aitar by declaring for Grover Cleveland. The President's friends stoutly aver that when the lone declaration for a third term comes it will be immediately followed by the much-talked of letter of declination.

ANTI-M'KINLEY FORLORN HOPE. The Combined Fight to Be Made in the South.

cial to The Post-Dispatel WASHINGTON, D. C., March 26,-To check the onward march of the McKinley boom is now the serious issue confronting the "favorite sons." His victory in North Dakota yesterday has emphasized the fact that whatever is done, must be done that whatever is done, must be done quickly.

Joe Manley of Maine, the leader of the Reed forces, is spending most of his time at the capital now working out the problem. He conferred yesterday with anti-Mc-Kinleyites, and to-day continued his secret conferences with men who are opposed to McKinley. No satisfactery plan has been hit on yet, but the attack will be made on the McKinleyites in the South.

The situation in Texas has encouraged the opposition. It believes now that therein lies the vulnerable point of McKinley, It is significant that among the Senators who the vulnerable point of McKinley. It is significant that among the Senators who have conferred with Joe Manley since he arrived was Senator Steve Elkins of West Virginia. Col. Lamb, the Virginia leader, has also been identified with the new movement. He is to be intrusted with the task of securing a delegation from Virginia, which will not be hampered by instructions. With uninstructed delegations from several of the big Southern States, the antisfeel that the chances of defeating McKinley at St. Louis will be much improved.

MAY BREAK FOR HARRISON. A Possibility Being Considered by Indiana Republicans.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 26.—Ex-President Harrison has been receiving many letters since the sentiment for McKinley has developed such surprising strength, asking him to reconsider his refusal and to permit the use of his name as a candidate for President. He has given no intimation of a change in his purpose, but his friends in Indiana have begun to talk of him as a candidate again, and have quietly consulted. candidate again, and have quietly consulted the delegates to the St. Louis Convention the delegates to the St. Louis Convention regarding their action in the event of his candidacy. They claim that every delegate is ready to vote for the ex-President at any time that an assurance can be given that he will accept the nominatios.

The leaders in the new Harrison movement believe that they can count upon New York, Pennsylvania and several other Eastern States to join a break for Harrison after the favorite sons have been sufficiently complimented.

DEPEW TALKS FOR MORTON. Thinks McKinley Will Lead, but Combinations Will Beat Him. LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 26.-A special rain arrived in this city last evening bearing Cornelius Vanderbilt, Chauncey M. De-train arrived in this city last evening bearing Cornelius Vanderbilt, Chauncey M. Depew, John Hone, Jr., and George R. Fearing, all intimately related to the Vanderbilt railway interests.

When asked for his views on the political situation, Mr. Depew said:

"It is generally conceded that on the first ballot at the Republican National Convention McKinley will receive more votes than any other candidate. This, however, singles him out as the one man dangerous to all others, and, as often happens in the national conventions, numerous combinations will doubtless be made in order to counteract the influence of his candidacy upon wavering delegations. This is where the real work comes in, to divert attention from one who is ahead to others whose chances at first are secondary.

"If Mr. McKinley could secure the nomination on the first ballot that would settle the whole trouble. But I am confident he will not have the votes necessary to win at the stages and that he will be forced in the end to abandon the field. Every indication favors the presumption that Mr. Morton will profit from this failure on the first ballot of Mr. McKinley and that the presidential candidate will come from New York. At those critical points in convencions it is always the case that the preferences of the delegations from doubtful States are given special consideration. New York gave Cleveland a plurality of 190,000 and Morton a plurality of 185,600. This shows the changeable nature of the vote in the Empire State. It will be considered at St. Louis and the Republicans of New York have no fears regarding the result."

JENKINS AND "WIFE."

Big New Yorker's Fun Crossed by a Hetel Sleuth.

Felix Connor, the house detective at th Planters', is a fearless sleuth.

He is what the Faddens would call "small, but oh my!" As for experience, the leading lights in "On the Trail" or "Tracked Around the World" are not in it. And, like the modest hero, this notoriety comes to him unsolicited.

est hero, this notoriety comes to him unsolicited.

W. R. Jenkins, a traveling man of New York City, is responsible for it. But his epinion of the eleuth is very "heavy," and would not look well in print.
Jenkins is a well-diressed man, has more than his just share of inches, and the countenance and bearing of one who has had a pleasant, undisturbed existence. And appearances may not have been deceiving had he not committed a slight mistake, and, as he says, forgot his wife. Jenkins occupied room 539. Wednesday afternoon a middleaged woman inquired for him. She left a note and asked that it be given him.
When Jenkins returned it was near midnight, and he hurried to his room. The woman who inquired for him earlier in the day was with him. He called her "wifey, dear," and are questious were asked by the night clerk, Jack Malloy. Later the register showed that one lone male engaged room 535. Sleuth Connor hastened to invastigate.

He knocked on the door, and the raply gate.

He knocked on the door, and the raply "What do you want?" came through the keyhole.

"Er—there must be some mistake here." said Connor. "This room was rented by Mr. Jenkins."

"That's all right. I'm the owner of that said Connor. "This room was rented by Mr. Jenkins."

"That's all right. I'm the owner of that name," said the tail New Yorker.

"But-you are not alone. You will have to vacate immediately."

"I guess not—this lady is my wife."

The key was turned, and the door securely fastened. Nothing more could be done that night. In the morning Tom Golden sent up word for Jenkins to see Assistant Manager Cunningham. His appearance had changed. His face looked like—a weather-beaten pumpkin, and he was in no good humor. He told the manager what he told Connor. "I merely forgot to register my wife." he added.

This explanation didn't move the "house." He was told that if he had nothing to prove the alleged identity of his companion ha must "git." He returned a half hour later with his baggage on one arm and his wife on the other, and he "got." Whether he attempted to prove her identity is not known.

He took the granitoid sidewalk to the Southern Hotel, occupied rooms 428 and 440 for a short time and then departed for the East.

This ends the story of Jenkins' woes and East.
This ends the story of Jenkins' woes and Connor's triumph.

DR. BOYD'S CHARGES

He Has Given His Proofs of Municipal Corruption to the Grand-Jury.

Some of the charges made by Dr. W. W. Boyd in his lecture at the Second Baptist Church Sunday night were repeated by him to the Grand-Jury Wednesday. Matters that he had not touched upon in his lecture were also brought out.

The Grand-Jury has undertaken a general inquiry into the corruption alieged to exist in the city government, both in relation to the charges brought against the Municipal Assembly and those alleged against the last School Board. Dr. Boyd's fecture of Sunday night indicated that he was a valuable witness and on Tussday a subpoona was insued for him by the Grand-Jury. Dr. Boyd was in the Grand-Jury room for a considerable time.

Dr. Boyd having been sworn to secrecy in the Grand-Jury room stated to a Post-Dispatch reporter that he could not discous the municipal seandal in any of its phase.

Since the publication of Dr. Boyd's lecture he had received a number of letters contamining definite information in reserving to deals in the administration of the municipal government. All of the letters were

WITH THE PLAYER-FOLK.

Prospects for a successful week of grand opera by the Metropolitan Opera Company are very flattering, and the St. Louis engagement of 1886 bids fair to exceed from a financial standpoint the triumph scored by the organization last year.

Mr. Charles Balmer of Balmer & Weber, who are conducting the sale of seats, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Thuirsday:

"The sale of season tickets is about the same as at this time last year, and the season buyers are very much the same. Judging from the way the orders are being filed the seats for all performances will be exhausted Monday, when the single night tickets will be placed on sale. While every performance bids fair to be largely attended, "Romeo." "Carmen" and "The Huguenots" have the call, and the demand for seats for these performances will be exhausted early.

"Last year the receipts for the week were 48,40. I do not think they will fail short of this this year, and it is my opinion the amount will exceed $0,000. But appearances are deceitful. When Melba appeared here last I confidently predicted she would be greated by record branking audiences. I expected to find crowds of ticket buyers in line awaiting an opportunity to buy seats, but when the sale was begun nof a purchaser was in sight. However, the Melba engagement was a success and she made mence.

LABOR UNIONS SPLIT.

In order to make the strike effective, as they maistained, the local musicians, who were organized under the K. of L., were asked to call a sympathetic strike. Had this been done the theaters would have lost their orchestras and it would have been a difficult matter to replace them.

The musicians refused point blank to assist. For this the majority of the delegates of the Trades and Labor Assembly refused to sit in the same meeting with them, and by a vute they were officially barred.

Following this, a petition was sent to President samuel Gompers of the A. F. of L.

The Executive Board of that organization desided thes the K. of L. and the A. F. of L. to reorganize, ignoring the C. I. and the A. F. of L. to reorganize, ignoring the C. I. and the A. LULA JENKINS' FATE.

Report That She Died While Trying to Hide Her Shame.

The St. Louis authorities have been searching since March 13 for 16-year-old Lula Jen-kins, daughter of B. F. Jenkins of Ava, Ill. kins, daughter of B. F. Jenkins of Ava, Ill. The girl left Ava on that date in a buggy with a young man. At Percy they took train for St. Louis.

A few hours after Mrs. "Nin" Hinsen, an inlimate acquaintance of the girl, left Ava for St. Louis. Next morning Walter Killian of 3346 Laclede avenue saw the girl with Mrs. Hinsen at the Union Station. He followed them to 1803 Washington avenue.

Killain telegraphed Jenkius, who came to St. Louis at once. Two cr three days later Mrs. Hinsen returned to Ava, but denied that she had seen Miss Jenkins. Mrs. Hinsen has since disappeared.

The house, 1803 Washington avenue, is occupied by Mrs. Lizzie Horson. When seen Thursday Mrs. Hotson stated to a Post-Dispatch reporter that a woman answering Mrs. Hinsen's description and a young girl who was presumably Lula Jenkins, called at her house a short while ago, and tried to make arrangements for the girl to remain until she got over her trouble. Mrs. Hotson's terms were not satisfactory, and the two left without having stated their names. Mrs. Hotson steed that she supposed they went to some other place.

Wednesday the Eirl's father received a telegram from Mrs. F. M. Jenkins of East St. Louis, his sister-in-law, stating that his daughter was dead. Tels information had come to Mrs. Jenkins through a locomotive engineer, who, being on the road almost constantly, has not yet been located, and could not be verified. The girl left Ava on that date in a buggy

THE MAYOR'S SALARY.

He Decen't Have to Work to Earn It,

"Can the Mayor be docked for being absent from his office?"

The legal luminary smiled a knowing smile floked a few chicken feathers from the sleepe of his coat onto that of Denny Devoy, who was sitting by, and said:
"No, he cannot."
"Why not?"
"Because, under the charter provision the Mayor and the Charity Commissioners are set upon a higher plane than their fellow officials and are not held accountable for their time."

The Counselor reached forth and grasped a copy of the Revised Ordinances, which has printed in the front of it the charter. Opening it, he expounded:
"Sec. It of article 4 says: 'Any city officer, excepting the Mayor and Commissioners on Charitable Institutions, who shall, except when absent from the city, fall to devote his entire time during business hours to the duties of his office, shall be removed or suspended by the Mayor or the Council.
"There you have it all clear, a double exception in his case, and under that section I hold that the Mayor is clearly entitled to all of his pay, whether he sees fit to go to his office or not. The Mayor is granted great discretion in that direction and is supposed to be the best judge of the direction in which his duties lle."

"But Auditor Brown says that when he was mayor he did not get paid when he was out of the city or when others were acting for him."

"Ah ha, that is different," said the Counsiler of the city or when others were acting for the hosters.

ous of the cut. of the for him."

"Ah ha, that is different," said the Counselor as he made a dive for the bookcase.
"Mr. Brown was Mayor under the old charter, which distinctly states that the acting officer shall draw the salary and that he alone may do so."

Preparations for the affair have been prac-

Preparations for the affair have been practically completed. The utmost enthulsam prevails and the principal topic of conversation is Reed and his chances.

The chief interest felt among the politicians is what the platform will say on the financial question, although it is believed it will declare unequivocally against any change in the currency. The convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock by Chairman Lyman of the State Committee.

Senator Lodge's name will be presented to the convention as a candidate for delegate-at-large, as will that of Curtis Guild, Jr. Eben S. Draper and Hon. Murray Crane will be the other nominees for delegates-at-large.

WHEAT.

This was about as flat and as uninteresting a market this morning as has been seen for some time. The conditions generally were bearish and the buying was thin, but there was not the ardent desire to sell by the bears that has been so conspicuous of fate, the advancing market of two days past having cooled the ardor of the short sellets. Hence, the market, while lower, was not pressed for sale, the decline was small and trading light. The beautiful spring weather, with plenty of sun and blackbirds, was just the description to meet the bearish instincts of St. Louis traders, there was a glowing evon report purporting to come from the bearish instincts of St. Louis traders, there was a glowing crop report purporting to come from the Kansas State Board, the cables reported dull and unchanged English markets, showing no response to our yesterday's rally, and the volume of receipts in the Northwest and West showed no decrease. Receipts at Duluth and Minneapolis were 476 cars, against 240 one year ago, and the total at Western markets was 485,000 bu, against: 219,000 bu. These were this morning's market conditions.

SPECIAL NAVAL BOARD.

To Deal With the Armament of the New Battleships.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 26 .- Because the naval appropriation bill now pending before the House, making provision for the building of four battleships, allows only ninety days for the preparation and issue of advertisements for proposals. Secretary Herbert has taken steps already to determine the features of the new ships. To this end he has appointed a special board to deal with the question of the best character of main battery for each ship, undoubtedly the most important feature of a battleship. The board will consist of Real Admiral John G. Waller, Commander R. L. Phythian, Capt. H. W. Cooper, Chief Engineer Edward Harmer and Constructor J. J. Woodward, with Lieut. S. A. Stanton as Recorder. This board will meet at the Navy Department on the 31st inst., and proceed at once to consider the installation of the main batteries, not only in the new ships to be authorized by Congress, but on the Kearsarge and Kentucky as well.

The Naval Board on Construction has decided to recommend to the Secretary of the Navy the allowance to the Craffps of extensions of time of eighteen months in the case of the protected cruiser Brooklyh. only ninety days for the preparation and

THE LINDELL PENSION FOR GEN. GOODING.

A Favorable Report Based on Alleged Injuries During the War.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 26.-The Senate Committee on Pensions has made a favorable report on a bill granting a pension of $75 a month to Gen. O. P. Gooding of St. Louis, who is now in an insane asylum here. This action is based on the idea that Gen. Gooding's mental condition was caused by heavy cannonading during the war.

wise known as Huldah Snell of Kern County, Cal., asking for the revocation of the old will of Andrew J. Davis, and claiming the whole estate, alleging that she was Davis' wife. The won-an alleges that she was married to Davis Aug. 15, 1842, in Carroll County, Ark., and was his lawful wife until his death in Butte, March 14, 1890. Two children were born to them, she says—one, May Isabelle, now Mrs. Isabelle Marrow of Fresne, Cal., and the other, Laura Annie Calhoun, now residing in San Francisco. Davis was an eccentric youth, and went to Arkansas from his home in New York, where he married Mary Queen, and when the gold fever broke out went to California, leaving his wife behind.

She heard from him several times, and then received word that he had been shot and killed near Fresne. A few years later the woman married a man named Williams, and also moved to California, and there, in time, accidentally met her husband, whom she thought dead. They quarreled, and a few years later he came to Montana. Williams died and the woman married George Snell, who is also dead now. Mrs. Calhoun, one of the daughters, is the mother of Eleanor Calhoun, the actress, now in Paris. Another contest was also begun to-day by Dinah Davis of Somer, Mass., a sister of the dead millionaire.

political movement was involved in the recent conferring of honors upon, or father in the acceptance of them, by Prince Henry of Orleans.

On his recent return from an exploring expedition through Burmah, Siam and Thibet the Prince not only indicated his willingness to receive the Cross of the Legion of Honor (founded by Napoleon and now administered by the Republic). but made a speech acknowledging the existence of the Republic. That was practically its first public recognition by any member of the Legitimist family. All this aroused intensely bitter comment from his adherents.

Neubert's Mental Misfortune.

John Neubert was sent to the City Hospital Wednesday by his brother, Charles, because he had of late become unable to take care of himself.

Charles Neubert is a boat builder on the river and lives in a very neat and comfortable houseboat of two rooms. His wife keeps boat for him and it was with them that John lived. He was not satisfied with the comforts of the houseboat and showed a very decided inclination to wander off by himself and bewail the hardships of the times and his own lack of occupation.

Frequently John would wander up the beach from the houseboat thinking deeply over his affairs until he reached the rail road track. There he would stand and meditate until his sister-in-law hastened forth and rescued him from impending locomotives.

Mr. E. M. Cross, a special Associated Press reporter, who lives at 1916 Maple avenue, Huntington, W. Va., has knowledge of the remarkable cure of Mrs. Martha Gilkison, the wife of a carpenter of the east end of the city, who, on the 22d of September, 1895, related her experience as follows: "For a good many years I have been bothered an awful sight with my stomach. I got so I couldn't eat anything at all without souring on my stomach would spit up great mouthfuls of stuff bitter as gall. I kept getting worse all the time, and took piles of doctor medicine, but I might as well took that much starch for all the good it done me. It run into neuralgia of the stomach and worked itself all over me. Dr. Gardener, the new doctor up on Twentieth street, told me when I saw him it was my stomach that caused all the trouble and give me an order to the drug store. I took it there, and the boy gave me a box of Ripans Tabules. I began getting better, and have used a little over two boxes, and am now sound and well. (Signed) MARTHA GILKISON, No. 1820 Fourth avenue, Huntington, W. Va."

Ripans Tabules are sold by druggists, or he the price (50 cents a box) is sent to The semical Company, No. 10 Spruce st., New mpjs vial, 10 cents.
